

But here, all paths between ${\bf k}$ and ${\bf Y}$ use nodes with a feast cost less than the feast cost of ${\bf k}$.

Therefore, the feast cost of \mathbf{X} cannot have an effect on the paths between \mathbf{k} and \mathbf{Y} .