The idea is to place the most constrained rook first.